

Conference Goals

- To bring organizations, individuals and businesses interested in companion animal welfare issues together to share information, opinions and strategies for ending the needless killing of companion animals
- To participate in breakout groups with CCCAA trained facilitators
- To recognize the importance of local councils and animal control advisory committees

Friday, December 5, 1997

Morning

- 8:00-9:00 Registration and continental breakfast
9:00-9:30 Opening Remarks - Council Co-chairs
Dr. Dena Mangiamele and Dr. John Hamil
9:30-9:45 Symposium Structure and Breakout groups
Jan Elster and Associates
9:45-10:15 Results of recent studies by the National and California Councils
Dr. Phil Kass, Epidemiologist U.C. Davis
10:45-12:30 Breakout Session I - What local programs can be developed to reduce animal surrenders?

Afternoon

- 12:30-1:30 Lunch provided
1:30-2:00 Report on Breakout Session I
2:00-2:30 Presentation on Animal Control Advisory Committees and Local Councils
3:00-5:00 Breakout Session II - What are the advantages and disadvantages of local councils and advisory committees?

Evening

- 6:30-7:30 Reception
7:30-9:00 Animalities - an exciting group game for animal "know-it-alls".

Saturday, December 6, 1997

Morning

- 8:00-9:00 Continental Breakfast
9:00-9:30 Report on Breakout Session II
9:30-10:00 Spay Day USA
Holly Hazard, Doris Day Animal League
10:00-12:00 Breakout Session III - Current programs and new ideas to promote Spay Day USA

Afternoon

- 12:00-1:00 Lunch provided
1:00-1:30 Report on Breakout Session III
1:30-3:30 Sharing Session - A five minute opportunity for groups to share innovative programs in their communities
3:30 Closing remarks

To register: call, write or fax
Bette Morgan, CA Veterinary Medical Association
5231 Madison Avenue, Sacramento, CA 95841
(916) 344-4985 or Fax (916) 344-6147

$50 Per Person - Register Early
Enrollment is limited - RSVP by November 1, 1997